

Dott. Dragonetti Alberto

He graduated at the University of Milan in 1983. He served in the Hospital of Gorgonzola, first as a medical assistant and then as an Assistant co-responsible. He was Director of the Department of Otolaryngology in Nursing home Poliambulanza - Brescia (1997-1999) and in San Giuseppe Hospital- Milan (1999-2012). From January 2012 is Director of Otolaryngology in Niguarda Ca' Granda Hospital.

He holds the following specialization: Otorhinolaryngology and cervicofacial pathologies in 1985 from the University of Milan.

Operating activity as first operator exceeds 8,000 surgeries. The interventions were performed with traditional techniques, and laser-assisted microendoscopiche, across all districts, both functional ENT with cancer..

Especially since 1991 deals with minimally invasive endoscopic surgery of the paranasal sinuses and skull base for the treatment of inflammatory and tumorous forms, both benign and malignant.

From 2005 to 2011 has been adjunct professor of undergraduate single cycle in medicine and surgery from the University of Milan. He is currently Adjunct Professor of the school of specialization in Otorhinolaryngology at the University of Pavia and University of Milan.

Played important roles as Coordinator, Director and presenter in more than 150 scientific symposia. He also directed and organized practical courses video-live surgery and anatomical dissection paranasal sinuses and skull-base, both nationally and internationally.

Chairman and founding partner of Lombard Group Otolaryngologists (GLO) has to its active, as author and co-author, publications in international journals and monographs on national periodicals.